Southern Vermont Arts Center Raffle for Sabra Field Print

Cloud Light is the ethereal title of the framed Sabra Field print The Southern Vermont Arts Center has on view in Yester House Galleries – and has raffle tickets available for some lucky ticket buyer to win. One of Vermont’s most iconic artists, Sabra Field is one of the country’s foremost printmakers. Her original woodcuts are translated to print in a fine art process known as giclee (zhee-clay), which digitally prints the image using archival inks.

Tickets for the framed work are $25 each or 5 for $100, and are available in-person at the Arts Center and at The Image Loft on Main Street, or by phone with a credit card through the Arts Center at (802) 362-1405.

The drawing for the print, the winning ticket to be drawn by the artist herself, will be on July 23 at the opening reception at SVAC’s Elizabeth de C. Wilson Museum for “Sabra Field: Vermont Artists, World Vision.” The Arts Center is very pleased to present the exhibition which is open from July 23 through October 16.
